CELEBRATE IN '98

The 1998 Maryland lacrosse team is poised to celebrate in 1998. The Terrapins have determined their primary goal is to be the last team standing on Memorial Day, hoisting the national championship trophy over their heads on May 25th. After making a miraculous Cinderella run to the 1997 championship game as an unseeded team, this year's squad returns virtually intact as it gears up for a shot at the gold.

The Terps lost only five players to graduation, including starters Peter Hilgartner (attack), Todd Evans (midfield) and second team All-America defenseman Dave LaChapelle. The experience of playing in last year's final before the largest crowd in the sport's history will benefit the younger players who will be asked to fill their spots.

Maryland's schedule is once again one of the most difficult in the nation. Playing in the sport's top conference, the Terps must travel to North Carolina and 1997 semifinalist Duke. The Terps host Penn State on March 11 as the two schools renew the series. Powerful Virginia visits College Park on March 28. Circle April 11th on your lacrosse calendar as the Terps continue the greatest rivalry in the sport with a trek up to Johns Hopkins.

The eyes of the lacrosse world shift to Charlottesville, Va., as the Cavaliers host the 1998 Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament, April 17-19. Last year's tournament featured two Final Four participants and an NCAA quarterfinalist, and this year's edition promises to be as entertaining.

For the first time since 1992, Maryland will not serve as host of the championships. College Park will serve as the site of the NCAA South Quarterfinals, where two invitations to the 1998 championships will be handed out. Rutgers hosts the gala event this year before it returns to College Park for 1999 and 2000.

Attack: Maryland's attack is by far its strongest position. The Terps return three All-America starters, including sensational seniors Matt Hahn and Andrew Whipple. Along with junior Scott Hochstadt, the first line possesses skills that complement one another perfectly. Hahn is deadly accurate with his shot and can sustain a check to maintain his position on the crease. Whipple has developed into the game's premier feeder and sets up his teammates in perfect scoring position. Hochstadt's strength has made him the Terps' best one-on-one attackman. Maryland is deep at attack as well. Mike Morsell will serve as Matt Hahn's understudy in anticipation of taking over the reigns in 1999. Andrew Combs will pester the opposition with his tenacious riding ability.

Midfield: The Terps have a tremendous hole to fill after losing two-time All-American, Todd Evans. Senior Frank Radin showed flashes of brilliance in last year's NCAA Tournament. Look for Radin to use that confidence he gained in the postseason to his advantage and become the go-to guy on a consistent basis from the midfield. Brian Zeller showed phenomenal poise for a freshman in last year's postseason. His size enables him to ward off defenders while his warrior mentality enables him to go through them when challenged. Billy Ruhl was playing the best lacrosse of his life in the 1997 preseason before going down with a knee injury. He returned late in the season after undergoing successful arthroscopic surgery and will provide this year's first midfield line with his cannon shot. Kevin Pasqualina's versatility provides a valuable asset to this squad. He can be used on the face-off or either side of the ball. He logged quality minutes last year and figures to improve on that for his senior season. Bob Hannah's rocket left-handed shot is virtually unstoppable when he hits the net. The junior is Maryland's most improved player and should parlay his success from last year's man-up play into a spot on one of the first two lines. Brian Haggerty's face-off success last year carried over to his entire game. His new found confidence will enable him to contribute significantly from outside the circle as well.

Defense: Senior co-captain Mike Bonanni is the emotional team leader. Edell's first-ever two-time captain, Bonanni sets the physical tone that is Maryland's trademark. Bonanni broke his leg early in the 1997 campaign, but returned for the ACC Tournament. With the Bonanni piece back in the puzzle, the Terps' defense solidified as they made their impressive run to the final. The defense suffers the biggest loss via the graduation of Dave LaChapelle, a second team All-American, to graduation last year. Expect Chris Lamy to pick up right where LaChapelle left off. Combined with his tremendous size and a year of starting experience in the nation's top conference, look for Lamy to emerge as a force and show All-America potential. Edell considers his 1997 defensive recruiting class his best ever. Jason Carrier and Casey Connor played huge roles for Maryland as true freshmen last year. Edell has the pleasant problem of finding enough playing time for this talented core.

Defensive-Midfield: Brian Reese showed the nation with his stellar postseason play that he is the best long-pole defensive midfielder in the country. Reese's ability to run the length of the field and his ability to strip the opposition of the ball almost at will equate to a lethal combination. Geoff Burnham figures prominently in the mix as well as his game evolves and steadily improves. Erik Osberg's athleticism and strength qualify him as a top contender at short-pole defensive-midfield. Jeff Shirk, Maryland's Co-Rookie of the Year, will also convert to the short-pole in an attempt to make up for the graduated John Miller. Kyle Rannigan and Kevin Necessary should also see playing time with the short-pole.

Face-off: Maryland enters the season with a terrific tandem in Chris Nohe and Brian Haggerty. Nohe returns after missing the entire 1997 season due to stomach surgery. He should re-establish himself as the ACC's top face-off man. Haggerty was huge in filling in for the injured Nohe. He won a career-high 19 face-offs in Maryland's thrilling overtime victory against North Carolina. Both men bring a career 60 percent win rate into the season. Kevin Pasqualina and Jeff Shirk can also be called upon for select duty.

Goal: Sean Keenan showed flashes of brilliance last season. He shut out Navy for the entire second half and registered three games of at least 18 saves. Keenan started all but one game for Maryland last year, so his experience will be relied on if he is to earn the top role again. Kevin Healy returns after serving as the number two goalie last year. He contributed some impressive saves in the championship game after entering in the final quarter. Freshman Jared Norkus can surprise and the door for him earning the starting role is not closed.

Head Coach Dick Edell

Dick Edell enters his 26th year of coaching and 15th at the Maryland helm. He became the second winningest coach in Atlantic Coast Conference history when the Terps defeated UMBC, 12-10, last year to give him his 121st victory at Maryland. He also ranks second in NCAA history with 14 total tournament appearances.

His players affectionately call him "Big Man," while his resume reflects why he is the "Big Man" among all lacrosse coaches. Last year, he led Maryland to its second appearance in the championship game in the last three years. The Terps have also qualified for seven consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances and ten overall with Edell at the controls.

Edell's career record stands at 235-107 (.687), including a 124-60 (.674) record at Maryland. Last year's 11 victories marked the seventh time the Terps posted at least 10 wins in a season under his leadership. Last year's underdog Terps also became only the third unseeded team in NCAA history to reach the championship game.

The only coach in Maryland history to post 100 victories, he led Maryland to a school record 12 wins in 1987 and 1995. The 12th victory in 1995 is considered the greatest upset in the 27-year history of the NCAA Tournament. The Terps upset previously undefeated and No. 1-ranked Johns Hopkins, 16-8, to advance to the championship game that year.

Edell is also considered one of the premier recruiters in the game, consistently attracting the nation's top talent to College Park year after year. Under Edell, 30 Maryland players have been named to the first, second or third All-America teams. Five of his student-athletes have won Player of the Year recognition at their respective positions while 11 Terps have been named first team All-Americans. Former Terp and two-time national Goalie of the Year Brian Dougherty will represent the United States at this year's World Championships.

Edell was named the National Coach of the Year by the USILA in 1978 and 1995. He was also selected as the ACC's Coach of the Year in 1989 and 1992.

Edell came to Maryland in 1984 after seven tremendously successful seasons at Army. He compiled a 66-24 (.733) record with the Cadets and led them to four NCAA appearances. He broke into the profession in 1973 at the University of Baltimore where he coached for four years and amassed a 45-23 (.661) record. He also coached Baltimore to a Division II soccer crown in 1975.

He was a two-time All-American at Towson State where he graduated with a bachelor's degree in Physical Education in 1967. He earned his master's degree in Education from Western Maryland in 1970 and another master's degree in Science from the University of Baltimore in 1976.

The 54-year-old Edell and his wife, Dolores, are the proud parents of four children. Their daughters Lisa and Krissy are both Maryland graduates, while their son Gregg is a sophomore and plays lacrosse at Dartmouth. Their youngest daughter, Erin, is in ninth grade.

Dave Slafkosky

Assistant Coach,
Defensive Coordinator

Dave Slafkosky and Dick Edell celebrate their 21st year together as they embark upon the 1998 season. When Edell came to Maryland, his only request was that "Coach Slaf" join him. Granting Edell's only request was a critical decision that ensured unprecedented success for the program.

Slafkosky was named the offensive coordinator when he joined the Terps in 1984. After leading Maryland to Final Fours in 1987 and 1989, Edell challenged his old friend to take over the defensive reigns in 1991.

Without missing a beat, the Terps would soon experience the same success on defense with Slafkosky at the wheel. Maryland would return to the Final Four in Slafkosky's first year with the defense. Under Slafkosky's tuteledge, Brian Burlace would go on to win National Defenseman of the Year honors in 1992.

Maryland's defense has become its trademark with its itimidating physical play. The Terps reached the finals in 1995, led by its National Defenseman of the Year, Dan Radebaugh. Defenseman Dave LaChapelle's play earned him second team All-America honors last year and propelled the Terps into the championship game for the second time in three years.

A 1974 graduate of Johns Hopkins University, Slafkosky led the Blue Jays to a national championship his senior year as a midfielder.

Dave and his wife, Michelle, have four children: Daniel, Sarah, Kevin and Alex.

Edell and Slafkosky have been a team for 21 years.

Scott Marr

Assistant Coach,
Offensive Coordinator

Entering his fourth year at Maryland, Scott Marr has taken the Maryland offense to an elite level. The attack has averaged an impressive 13 goals per contest under Marr's direction and helped Maryland reach the championship game two of the last three years.

In his first year at College Park (1995), the Terps shattered the school's offensive record books. Maryland found the net a school record 235 times that year. Marr coached Kip Fulks and Rob Chomo to second team All-America status in 1995. Last year his starting attack of Matt Hahn, Andrew Whipple and Scott Hochstadt each earned honorable mention All-America honors under his guidance.

The highlight of Marr's coaching career took place in Byrd Stadium in 1995. Coaching against Johns Hopkins, his alma mater, Maryland outscored the No.1-ranked and previously undefeated Blue Jays, 16-8, for the biggest upset in the history of the NCAA tournament. On that Blue Jay squad was his brother, David. David set the Johns Hopkins record for career assists and graduated in 1996.

Scott earned his bachelor's degree in Economics and History in 1991 from JHU. His wife of five years, Traci, gave birth to their first child, Kyle, on May 29, 1996. Kyle and Scott like to frequent all you can eat buffets along the East Coast. The Marr's dog, Otis, serves as the team's mascot.

Jon Stainbrook

Assistant Coach

Stainbrook enters his second year with Maryland as its assistant defensive coach. He joined the Terp staff after serving three years at Div. III powerhouse Nazareth College. He led the Golden Flyers to a 36-6 record and three consecutive Final Four appearances.

He was a defenseman for Herkimer County College in 1987 and 1990. He also played at Cortland State University in 1991 and 1992. He served as captain at both universities.

Stainbrook graduated from Nazareth with a bachelor's degree in political science and a master's degree in education. He is currently enrolled in Maryland's graduate school of public affairs seeking a degree in international security and economic policy.

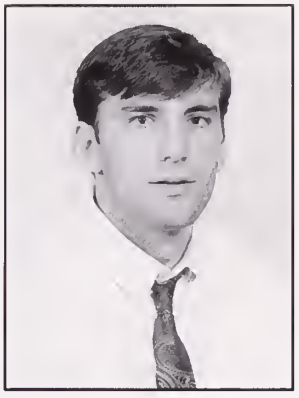
Sr*, 6-0, 181
Davidsonville, Md.
DeMatha

The first player to serve as two-time co-captain under Edell... is currently pursuing his master's degree at Maryland's School of Business... received his bachelor's degree in marketing last May, posting an amazing cumulative GPA of 3.7... unquestionable team leader... converted to close defense his sophomore year after starting every game at short pole as a redshirt freshman... sets the physical tone of the Maryland defense, leading by example... voted to the 1998 preseason All-ACC team by the conference's coaches... nicknamed "Bo."

1997: Broke his leg in three places and tore ligaments in his ankle in a freak practice accident on March 5... injury forced him to miss seven games... remarkably returned April 18 to face Duke in the ACC Tournament after the original diagnosis had him out for the season... return proved to be the emotional and physical spark that made the difference as Maryland shocked the nation during its run to the championship... missed only one shift after giving himself a partial concussion via a ferocious check on a Syracuse attackman in the NCAA semifinal.

Personal: Born 5/12/75... the son of Kathleen and Benny Bonanni.

Defenseman Mike Bonanni sets the physical tone for the Maryland defense. Bonanni is the definition of the word student-athlete, graduating with a 3.7 GPA in marketing last May.



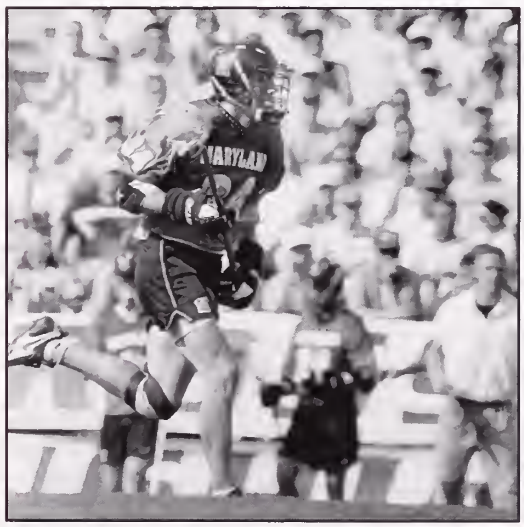
34 Brian REESE

Def.-Midfield
Sr, 6-3, 196
Towson, Md.
St. Paul's

Emerged as the game's top defensive-middie in last year's NCAA's... enters the 1998 season as a serious contender for All-America honors... voted to the 1998 preseason All-Atlantic Coast Conference team by the ACC's coaches... utilizes the long-pole to strip some of the game's best attackmen of the ball... runs the length of the field with ease.

1997: Brought the largest crowd in the history of the sport to its feet when he ran the length of the field and buried a shorthanded goal to give Maryland a three-goal lead with 6:36 remaining in the NCAA semifinal against Syracuse... provided the crucial check against Syracuse's Casey Powell with 36 remaining to seal the Maryland upset... registered a career-high four goals and four assists for eight points last season... .364 goal percentage tied him for the team lead... scooped up an amazing 59 groundball from the defensive-midfield position... his 11 penalties for 8.5 was also second-highest on the team.

Personal: Born 8/29/76... the son of Jeanne and Vernon Reese.



Brian Reese made this run to score a late shorthanded goal against Syracuse in last year's national semifinal. His postseason play thrusted him into All-America contention for 1998.
